

The Afterschool Landscape in SCHUYLER, STEUBEN & CHEMUNG COUNTIES

Key

- 21st Century Community Learning Centers
- Advantage After School
- Extended School Day
- Extended School Day & School Violence Prevention Program
- School Violence Prevention Program

Expanded Learning Network of the Southern Tier
chairperson@ELNoST.org

Counties Served: Chemung, Schuyler, and Steuben

As of 2016, 1,700 New York children participate in state or federally funded afterschool programs in your region.

In your region, there are 4 Advantage After School Programs, 10 21st Century Community Learning Centers Programs, and 3 Extended School Day/School Violence Prevention Programs.

Kids' Well-being Indicators Clearinghouse Map Builder, www.nyskwic.org/map/kwicmap.cfm

Data last updated 6/2016

72,200

New York children participate in Advantage and 21st CCLC programs, as of September, 2016.

1.1 million

students are still in need of access to high-quality afterschool programs in New York State.*

84%

of parents support public funding for afterschool programs.*

584,000+

New York students go home unsupervised after school.

Long-term participation in a high-quality afterschool program can help close the achievement gap.

For every 1 student with access to a program, there are still 2 waiting to get in. In rural areas, 3 are waiting.*

As of 2014, 24.1% of children and youth between 0 and 17 years of age in Steuben County live in poverty. In Chemung County, 26.6% of children and youth live in poverty. The national child poverty rate was 21.1% in 2014.

"Afterschool programs help [students] to be successful and also give their parents peace of mind. Drop out rates go down, crime rates go down, students are healthier and happier. When students are successful, our whole community is successful." - DONNA LUPARDO,

* Afterschool Alliance, America After 3pm, 2014 /  Deborah Lowe Vandell, The Achievement Gap is Real, 2013

supported by

map by

 NEW YORK STATE NETWORK FOR YOUTH SUCCESS

NetworkForYouthSuccess.org