- $15.6 million in FY19-20; peak funding of $37.1 million in FY08-09
- Distributed by county-based formula
- Administered by the Office of Children and Family Services
- Funds are distributed through county Youth Bureaus; in New York City they are part of the Department of Youth and Community Development’s COMPASS/SONYC program

Community Schools Aid

- $250 million in Community Schools Aid provided in FY19-20
- Funding allocated by formula to school districts with schools identified as "struggling" and "persistently struggling", as well as school districts identified as "high-need".
- Administered by the New York State Education Department

Community Schools Operating and Capital Fund

- $75 million made available in FY16-17 for competitive grants to support operating and capital costs associated with the transformation of "struggling" and "persistently struggling" schools into community schools.
- $50 million of this funding is for operating aid and $25 million is for capital investments.
- Administered by the New York State Education Department

Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP):

- Program employs youth ages 14 to 24 during the summer months, supporting their transition to the workforce
- Many participants serve as aides to summer programs for younger children, allowing programs to serve more children
- $44 million provided in FY19-20

Local Funding

- Cities and counties often choose to fund expanded learning opportunities through discretionary spending, generally through local Youth Bureaus
- New York City invests approximately $411 million in the COMPASS, including SONYC, and Beacon initiatives

Federal Funding:

21st Century Community Learning Centers:

- Programs offer academic enrichment and youth development, particularly for youth at low-performing or high poverty schools, through school-community partnerships
- $0 proposed in FFY19 Executive Budget; $92 million in FFY18; peak funding of $100.5 million in FFY09-10. The New York State Education Department sets aside up to 7% for administration and technical assistance to grantees.
- Grants are for five years
- Administered by the New York State Education Department

Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP): The At-Risk Afterschool Snack and Supper Program:

- Nutrition assistance for afterschool programs to provide free snacks and suppers to youth
- As of July 1, 2018, the program reimbursed 91 cents per snack and $3.31 per supper
- Any program located in a school district where 50% or more of enrolled students qualify for free or reduced-price school meals are eligible to receive funding

Summer Food Services Program (SFSP):

- Provides free, nutritious meals to children eighteen and under in low-income neighborhoods during the months when school is not in session
- Eligible locations must either be in areas where more than 50% of students qualify for free or reduced-price lunch or, if in a different area, the site must only provide free meals to students who qualify for free or reduced-price lunch

Child Care Subsidies:

- Federal, state, and local support for low-income families that may be used to pay for care for children from birth up to age twelve
- Approximately 1/2 of funding goes to school-age children (including all modalities of child care)

School District Grants:

- Certain federal funding for school districts, such as Title I and School Improvement Grants (SIG), can be used for expanded learning opportunities at the discretion of the school district
